Have you tried using the continuum files for the corresponding ground tracks since they are geo-registered? Also try using the 'best estimate' segments. These will be much more contiguous and should work. The reason you are not seeing the effect is because it is a GIS process, and "maybe" our ground tracks have not been geo-referenced. Have a look at this thread on the MIRI database https://discuss.mirdb.org/t/problem-with-using-smap-l2-reclass-radiance/369 . It includes some workarounds that may or may not be possible (yet) for you. You may need to try again with another run if you have something more problematic with your scene or inputs. Cheers, Tamayya Thanks, it is a problem, so a workaround is needed. I have added a QA flag to remove the buffers. I will include the segment files in a zip file, and hope someone can replicate. Will also test further with additional segments, and try a different GIS reprojection. Hi, I have saved your code as a rework on my local file system, to test if it would work. It is saved in z:, so you may have to figure out how to get access to that drive. I have not tried to publish it, but that is up to you. As I understand it, you may have to give MS a month to publish the changes to the public Excel Document. I am almost positive the API Key does not need to be set on this, but just in case, I did set it on mine. I have built a script for processing the place identifiers in ArcMap. You may have to change the parameters to suit your needs, but the script may be useful.

To enable you to have double click facility, we are using WMIC.WMIC is not protected and you may be asked for a root password when the program starts. Note that when using WMIC, the first thing that you will need to know is the path to the executable file of WMIC. To find this, open a console window and type: Reports a bank deposit. Details reported include contributors' names, addresses, occupations and employers, as well as amounts given. Contribution reportsare required to be filed electronically. You may request a hardship exemption if you are unable to file electronically. Email your request to pdcpdc.wa.gov. Lobbyists must register before doing any lobbying or within thirty days of being employed to lobby, whichever occurs first. Amendments to registrations must be filed within one week of the change that prompts the amendment. Registrations expire at the start of every odd-numbered year, unless the lobbyist or employer terminates before then. Hi, I'm facing a problem with the hdf5 file: i'm getting few errors. I'm using the l2 version of your files, and I tried a couple of hours to fix them, but it didn't work. For the Modis version, for example, I get error while opening the color or cloud masks, or at the end of an export session: Failed to create cloud mask directory: /root/.l2/1/errors/colormask: Directory does not exist or is not accessible: Permission denied. Error: Check on your permissions. I really want to fix this. And, I'm looking to your project to make a version of the datasets for ONEDrive. Thanks for your help, Tunis 5ec8ef588b
